

mantramagnet®

Sanskrit is considered by some linguists to be the “perfect language,” as its correct pronunciation evokes a unique vibration in the Universe, placing into motion whatever you are trying to manifest through your mantra.

Below are a few popular Sanskrit mantras, with their ancient meanings and how we can adopt them into our modern lives. Click on a text box to edit. Make sure to print at 100% (actual size)!

--	--	--

Translation: "I honor the divinity within myself." Use to help with self confidence.

This mantra will help you bring abundance into your life.

Translation: "May all beings everywhere be happy and free, and may the thoughts, words, and actions of my own life contribute in some way to that happiness and to that freedom." This mantra encourages cooperation, compassion and living in harmony with the environment, animals and our fellow human beings.

--	--	--

Translation: I bow to Ganesh who is capable of removing all obstacles. I pray for blessings and protection." Modern adaptation: In Hindu teachings, Ganesh is known as the god of wisdom and success and the destroyer of obstacles.

Translation: "Om and salutations to that feminine energy which bestows wealth." This mantra has not only been used for the purpose of attracting prosperity, but also for drawing in proper friends, clearing up family misunderstandings and quarrels, and resolving health problems.

The sound of the universe. It's the first, original vibration, representing the birth, death and re-birth process.

Or you can simply choose a word (the words below are in Sanskrit):

--	--	--

Faith

Devotion

Peace

--	--	--

Wisdom

Contentment

Knowledge

--	--	--

Bliss

Righteous Path

Grace/clarity

